

Life Drawing Rotation

The life drawing rotation required us to make at least 10 sketches and then make a 3 part story using one of them. I decided to make a humorous story inspired by the jokes from children's TV shows. The drawings show a third person perspective where the person watching the events unfold knows what is going to happen and anticipates the reaction of the character. The drawings have a square format because the background (time, place etc.) is irrelevant to the events.
